

NEW TITLES FOR 2007

Spinning Disney's World

Memories of a Magic Kingdom Press Agent

by Charles Ridgway

ISBN: 978-1-887140-67-6 • March 2007 • 240 pp • Index
• 11 b/w photos • Hard Cover • $24.95

“Disney Legend” Charlie Ridgway first saw Disneyland before it opened, when he snuck a kid under the fence for a feature story he was writing for a local paper. A few years later, he hired on as a Disney publicist and spent the next 40 years cooking up ways to get “the Mouse” free publicity. Along the way he rubbed shoulders with presidents and princes, helped usher in the era of electronic newsgathering, and was on a first-name basis with every great journalist of the last half century. In this light-hearted, engaging memoir, Charlie shares the magic that makes Disney's world universally beloved.

The Family Sabbatical Handbook

The Budget Guide to Living Abroad with Your Family

by Elisa Bernick

ISBN: 978-1-887140-69-0 • April 2007 • 296 pp • Index
• $15.95 • Resource Section

Taking a year (or more!) off, packing up the kids, and living abroad doesn't have to be just a dream. Here is the nuts and bolts information you need to make your overseas adventure a reality. Based on Bernick's personal experience and interviews with families who have lived the adventure around the globe, the book is for parents who would like to live abroad with their kids but who may not have a great deal of money or a job awaiting them overseas. It offers basic information about daily life abroad, telling anecdotes, insider advice, and personal insights for parents who want to create an intensive family bond through international living. Includes how to decide where to go, how to finance your adventure, mental and physical preparations, schools, visas, health care, learning a second language, handling cultural differences, effects on the family, and more.

Here Be Yaks: Travels in Far West Tibet

by Manosi Lahiri

Foreword by His Holiness the 14th Dalai Lama

ISBN: 978-1-887140-72-0 • June 2007 • Bibliography • 28 b/w photos • 3 b/w maps • 312 pp • $17.95

Here Be Yaks chronicles the adventures of a group of ordinary people on an extraordinary journey to one of the most isolated corners of Tibet. From Lhasa they travel ever upwards along the ancient Tasam Highway, stopping at ancient stage posts and battling altitude sickness and exhaustion, to reach Mount Kailash, revered by four faiths. Here they perform the sacred hidden inner kora, or circumambulation of Kailash, each seeking a personal religious epiphany. The author, haunted by the recent loss of her husband, finds peace and solace in this sacred place. Her curiosity piqued by an old map, she also solves one of the few remaining geographic mysteries on the planet — the true source of the river Sutlej, a matter of controversy for centuries. An important addition to the literature on Tibet.
